It's News This Week....

ROOSEVELT ASKS HUGE SUM OF CONGRESS

President Roosevelt signed the long-debated and finally adopted Lend-Lease bill for the aid of Britain, and immediately asked Congress for an additional 7 BILLION dollars for war preparation.

REPORT BIG BRITISH ARMY IN GREECE

Rumors, as yet unconfirmed, are being spread today that Britain has landed ten crack divisions, also at 175,000 men, in Greece and will go the limit aiding the Greeks if Germany attacks. The rumors are that 40 transport ships have unloaded Australian troops from Egypt at Salonika and Athens' port, Piraeus, ready for action.

PLENTY OF JOBS PROMISED

William S. Knudsen says that several more million people will have to be found to work in defense jobs in order to rush the output.

HODGES URGES EMERGENCY RESERVES

Additional State revenues which accrue to Virginia as a result of "the present war boom" should be used to "meet these unusual expenditures which are arising as a result of the emergency," according to a suggestion made by State Comptroller LeRoy Hodges in his annual report.

REPUBLICANS ACTIVE IN VIRGINIA

The Republican State Executive Committee has called a State convention to be held in Roanoke on Saturday, August 23, to nominate candidates for Governor, and other state offices.

BAND WAGON FORMING

Thomas W. Ozlin, State Corporation Commissioner and potential candidate who withdrew from the gubernatorial race, is slated to introduce Colgate W. Darden, Jr., at a political meeting in Richmond April 15, and observers believe the move presages wholesale support on the part of many leading State officials. In Southwest Virginia, Representative John W. Flannagan and E. R. Combs are reported working together in Mr. Darden's behalf.

GOVERNOR TO BACK V. E. A. PROGRAM

Governor Price has announced that he will ask increased appropriations totaling about $3,000,000 a year to attain two objectives of the Virginia Education Association's program. Approximately two million dollars will go toward raising the annual pay for each teaching unit to $720, the governor said, and one million dollars will be spent in building an actuarily sound retirement plan.

Father Darkleaf's Column

By C.H.R.

Lewis McDearmon Jr. knows his doctors! Recently he was asked which doctor he preferred, Dr. Christian, or Dr. O'Brien. He answered "Doctor Pepper.'

They have a pet black lamb over at the farm of W. P. Ferrell, one month old, being fed from a milk bottle, and "gentle as a lamb."

The Census Bureau has just announced the population of Appomattox county by magisterial district. Southside district is largest with 3,318, followed by Stonewall district with 3,004, and Clover Hill district with 2,623. The official county total (1940 census) is 9,020.

My mother tells of recently attending a Woman's Club meeting, at which ladies were asked to fill out a card stating what they could do to help in case of war. The first question was, can you drive a car. Mother had to answer no to that. The second question was, can you serve as a hostess at army camp dances. Being a married woman, such experience has been neglected, so she came to the conclusion that she wouldn't be of much help if the war came.

We wondered if there were many old-time organs still in use about the county. One person who travels throughout our county informed me that quite a number are left, and they knew of one family that recently traded in an organ as part payment to a Lynchburg store on an electric refrigerator. Ah, times!

We had every sort of weather Saturday. There was sleet, rain, snow, hail and sunshine. As the day passed into Sunday it was snowing again.

Gee, F. D. R. reminds us of the Roosevelt of 1933, the way he is speeding things. The news report is that new aid to Britain was started within four minutes after passage of the Lend-Lease bill, and now he plans to spend 7 more billions at once. Well, we are so far committed now, we must do the job right, so let's get on with it.

Selected: "A blade of grass fighting its way through the cold, wet sod; a tiny flower blooming close to earth, yet looking up to the sun and bravely showing its face; a stem turning green; a bud or two in the trees; birds flitting to and fro, singing a merry song; and an upward turn at the corners of the mouths of men— these are signs of spring."

Did Appomattox wait too late to mount the band wagon .... Colgate Darden was invited here court day, April 1, but declined, saying it was too long before the August primary to start making political speeches, and his successor in Congress would not have been named by April 1. However, Mr. Darden IS making speeches all over the state such as the one tonight in Buckingham. It can reply that the speeches he is making are no political speeches. Surely Mr. Darden knows that he is being invited to make non-political talks over the state for the simple reason that he is the leading candidate for the governorship. We are going to vote for Mr. Darden and believe he will spread-eagle the field in August, but why not be candid and admit that all speeches by a politician are political!

According to the 1930 census, there were 1,173 white and 469 negro residents of Appomattox county each 15 through 24 years of age!

Special Service At Memorial Sunday Night

An unusual type of service is announced for next Sunday evening at Memorial Methodist church, by the Rev. L. C. Shearer, pastor. This will be in the form of a "visit" from Dr. J. S. Burnett, who is engaged in home mission work in the Kentucky mountains, and who will tell of several unique experiences in doing Christian work among mountain people. "Accompanying" Dr. Burnett will be a group of students from one of the mountain mission schools, who will sing some of the native ballads.

Further explanation from Mr. Shearer indicates that this feature will be put on through the medium of phonograph records prepared by the Methodist Board of Missions for such use. The pastor will be in charge of the service and will preside; and explain the program.

The service Sunday evening will be the first of a series of special Sunday evening and Wednesday evening programs planned in connection with the church's annual missionary cultivation period. During the last two weeks in March the membership of the church will be reading the church-wide mission study book, "Methodism's World Mission," by Henry P. VanDusen.

Reservations for plates indicate an attendance of sixty. The public is invited to attend at 7:30 and hear the principal address.

Hon Carter Glass, Jr., of Lynchburg will speak on an angle of the national defense program, and Hon. T. Emmett Warriner, State Commander of the American Legion, will be the principal speaker.

A number of Legionaires from Farmville, Lynchburg and Campbell county will attend. Commander Warriner will arrive in Appomattox at 5 o'clock, from his home in Lawrenceville, and will make an inspection of the local Negro Veterans' CCC camp.

The Lions Club will transact its business during the luncheon, and indications are that at least 27 of the club's 30 members will attend. One new member was added at the last meeting. Adhering to the Lions' international program of aiding the blind and those in need of glasses, the club will donate from its treasury funds to buy a third pair of glasses for local school children, recommended as worthy by the high school principal. The club has recently purchased a piano, and this addition will enliven the meetings with musical entertainment.

On March 25 the Appomattox Lions Club will present a patriotic moving picture, "The Land of Liberty," at the Lee Theatre. Lewis McDearmon and John Taylor head the Lions ticket committee for this feature.
